SUPPLEMENT

1. On 14 November 1946 a new order regarding the relations of Czechoslovak army personnel with foreigners was issued by the General Staff and signed by General Svoboda. The order states that all visits with foreigners must be announced beforehand to the G-2 section and that the substance of the talks must be reported immediately after the conclusion of such visits.
2. The new order supersedes similar older orders about whose authority there had been some doubt. Many officers regarded the old orders as a passing fancy of Colonel Hains. The definite restatement of the order over the signature of General Svoboda creates a new situation which might call for more action.
